

417 3rd & Medalla
H 2000-102-05/07

1/23/07

Interview w/ Dan Korman -

w/ Greg Ferra Finestral, Kute Kelland and Bill Schuler at the Reinold house in Nona.

Dan worked in the Reinold management and came from a family of a heritage of herding. His interview is reflective of the industry as a whole but w/ lots of references to specific places and people. Of particular interest is the discussion of "by products" from herding - such as leg holes and sinew that were given to helpers w/ the corraling and handling. There was also a discussion about the crash of Reinold before WWII and thoughts on the current crash. Dan was able to predict the current crisis based on <sup>observations of</sup> the movement of livestock into the Peninsula

What Ho learned hard to forget

---

old concept reading day in day out.

---

Need to make sure we hv good work program plan

Substance versus Content

473rd & Mead lot 9-20

Dan Kornbluh

H 2000-10-02-05/07

Conolly by product distrib

Photos

1974 Canada

- 1) Family history in Fender Healy
- 2) Old reader headers we should remember and document - Examples of their wisdom.
- 3) What has been learned about herd management?

4) Have there been crisis in the past where reader numbers went down drastically? Why? - What would old headers say about the current crisis?

Why are Caribou coming onto the Reader Range?

5) Observations on Climate change?

What have you noticed?

What are the indicators:

- Freeze up
- Snowfall
- rain/fall
- breakups

 Animals' behavior

for pine fish sea mammals

What environmental factors affect readers?

- Snowfall - depth & duration
- lichen - rainfall / grazing

Management that affects reader has the management changed over years

- Ownership
- Close herding
- Open herding

6) How important is reader herding to communities & Community impacts of reader decline.

- income
- Social cohesion