On Jan. 25, 01 Rose Fosdick and I interviewed Jalusa Staller at his home in Buckland. We visited w/ him in the afternoon and then did the interview at night. Jalusa summed up his attitude by saying that he never got much school but learned to "read deer". In the interview, he gave a lot of detail on the behavior of deer.
In particular, his feeling that deer have a concept of "home" and try to return home. ~~He also~~ ^{Another example} of this is his description of finding sled deer and how deer think.
Jalusa's excitement about deer is evident throughout the interview, DIDN'T want to lose any deer ~~in~~ alone in a strange place.
