Dear Mrs. Laktonen,

Thank you for taking the time to talk with me today. As I explained on the phone, there is a section of radio transmission by your husband, Nicholas, that the Museum at the University wants to use in a sound production that they are planning to sell to interested Museum visitors and people who want to find out about the history of Alaska. The particular radio transmission was made at the time of the 1964 Earthquake and is archived at the university archives in the Rasmuson Library, here on campus. I have included in this letter a copy of the transcript for the section they wish to use. The radio piece is part of the museum's audio guide and they plan to make it available for people to purchase. They do not plan other commercial purposes and will acknowledge your help on the CD insert and will send you a copy when it is completed.

We want you to know our intended use and we want your approval to use the recording for this purpose. If you agree, please sign below and mail this letter back to me in the enclosed envelope.

Thank you for your help in this matter.

Sincerely,
